Detailed Action

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 102

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Liebmann (US 6,212,683 B1).

Claim 4, Liebmann teaches apparatus 28 capable of applying seam tape 14 along an edge of membrane 20 where apparatus 28 includes a seam tape applicator (Fig 3A) having contact roll 53 adapted to press tape 14 against a surface of membrane 20. The applicator supports roll 36 of tape 14. Tape 14 includes pressure sensitive layer 15 having first and second adhesive surfaces and release sheet 12 covering one of the surfaces. Apparatus 28 also includes slit 60 adapted to slit through tape 14 and membrane 20.

With respect to the limitation that the membrane be a roofing membrane per se, this refers to the material operated upon by the claimed apparatus and does not provide a patentable distinction between Liebmann and claim 4.

Claim 5, Liebmann teaches guides including roller for 50 which guides membrane 20 into a roll and a guide roll under slit 60.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 6-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 1-3 and 8 are allowed.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

claim 1, although Liebmann teaches a method of applying seam tape 14 (Fig 3A) along an edge of sheet of membrane 20 wherein (a) tape 14 includes pressure sensitive adhesive strip 15 covered on a first surface with release sheet 12 (Fig 5; c 6, L 1-14), (b) the method includes applying tape 14 to a center portion of membrane 20 by pressing a second surface of tape 14 against membrane 20 at item 53 and cutting membrane 20 into two sheets at item 60 by cutting through membrane 20 and tape 14 to form the two sheets having tape 14 along one edge (Fig 3B) (c 3-5 for related discussion), and (c) the limitation of "adapted for use as one of a roofing membrane and a pond liner" is related to an intended use of the sheets made using the presently claimed method and does not provide a patentable distinction between Liebmann and claim 1, Liebmann does not teach cutting through membrane 20 and tape 14 along a central portion of tape 14 where the two sheets formed having a continuous portion of tape 14 along one edge in that the sheets of Liebmann (Fig 3A) after cutting (but before being cut across via cutter 62) have a discontinuous portion of tape 14 along one edge at area 13 (Fig 3B) and the other edge (Figs 3A, 3B) does not the continuous portion of tape 14 along it because tape 14 is space from this edge, claim 6: Liebmann does not teach the guides to include a plurality of disks located along the central axis of apparatus 28, and claim 7: Liebmann does not teach apparatus 28 to include a handle providing means to push apparatus 28 over membrane 20 in that in that items 52, 53, and 60 are stationary relative to moving membrane 20.

Art Unit: 1734

6. As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

Response

7. Applicant's comments filed June 21, 2005 have been fully considered.

Although claim 1 is allowed, several comments are necessary. The limitation of "adapted for use as one of a roofing membrane and a pond liner" has been considered but does not provide a patentable distinction between Liebmann and the method of claim 1 because the limitation refers to an intended use of the sheets made using the presently claimed method. The limitation does not further limit the steps of the claimed method. Applicant argued otherwise.

For claim 1, also, Applicant indicates that Liebmann should not be used in a rejection because the reference deals with plastic bibs for use in a dental office and no one skilled in the art would look to plastic bib making to learn how to make membrane roofing. In response, each step of the method of claim 1 is taught by the reference (except for the steps which deem claim 1 allowable). The limitation in claim 1 of "adapted for use as one of a roofing membrane and a pond liner" refers to an intended use of the sheets made using the presently claimed method. The limitation does not further limit the steps of the claimed method. The limitation does not limit claim 1 to making roofing membranes, and claim 1 is written in such a manner as to include the bib making method of the reference.

The allowability of claims 4-7 is withdrawn as shown above, and prosecution is reopened with withdrawn of finality.
